Don't live in the past!

Helen Keller once said, "The only thing worse than being blind is to have sight with no vision." There comes a time when all of us need to determine when the past has ended and the future begins.

Troy E. Wright

When we come to that conclusion, it is time to recognize what's not worth keeping and begin investing in your own future. I know we all know life is short, but when we truly start to embrace that reality, we realize that we need to constantly make changes and keep our lives moving in a positive direction. This also takes on an attitude of believing in what we can trust versus what is now. Education, having a baby, starting your own business, a relationship..... what ever it is, now is the time for action. Believe in yourself. Start talking positive to those around you, but do not tell them about your goals. Unfortunately "haters" exist, and although they may say they're in your corner, they will try and tell you every reason why you will fail. Let this be your call for a positive change. Challenge yourself, think about the possibilities if you sit down alone, and make a plan with timelines and set defined objectives. This will give you a great opportunity to add sight to your vision and not live in the valley of excuses. Start your positive change today!
