Corporate Education

If not now, when?

Troy E. Wright

As the former Managing Director for Experience Hendrix (family of Jimi Hendrix), I know what it takes to succeed in an ever changing world. A key element is to elevate your company by offering incentives (financial, educational, upward mobility...) and provide opportunities for growth or your business will die. Each day there must be a conservative effort to create company growth and a happy environment to succeed. If you build a positive team, money will follow. I would never allow negative comments without a positive solution to control brain storming sessions. This philosophy resulted in winning a Grammy and Stellar Award, to name a couple. Another great example is my home town. The reason companies like Microsoft, Costco, Boeing, UPS, Nordstrom's, Starbucks, Eddie Bauer and Vulcan... (who started in Seattle Washington) do well, is because they invest in the community and provide education opportunities to their employees. If not now, then when will you take that step to move your company to another level? One sure way to do so is to offer education. The more educated, free thinking, creative and methodical people you have in your business, the better chance you have to succeed and not carry the burden alone. In most cases, if you take care of your staff, they will take care of you. Help them help you build and conquer your Dreams.

"The Voice"

Monique Abbadie

Before attending Florida National University, Monique starred in the Spanish language variety shows Sabado Gigante and El Show de Lucky.

The Criminal Justice graduate is a talent, and she managed to showcase her vocal power and rhythmic prowess during the fast-moving song "Loca" on "The Voice". Blake turned around first, eventually, the rest of the judges also spun, and Monique fell to her knees in shock and gratitude. "You know I got this one guys," says Shakira, and the rest agreed by show of hands that Monique should pick Shakira. "You're my idol," Monique exclaimed to Shakira as she exited the stage.

Come join Monique's family, friends, students and community, as we support Monique each week. Dates and location TBD. For more information, please call us at 786-364-9556.

45 FNU GIVES FORTY-FIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

Oftentimes, you hear about universities talking about helping their community through education, but rarely do you see them put their scholarships where their mouth is. "It is our duty as educators to do everything in our power to help our community and lift our nation when we have the opportunity to do so," said Mrs. Regueiro, President of Florida National University. Through an agreement with the Latin Chamber of Commerce, FNU will be assisting public schools in Miami - Dade County by making a scholarship available for each high school.

New Corporate Partner

Carlos Rivero Junior is a distinguished service-disabled veteran who served in both Iraqi Freedom and Enduring Freedom military initiatives when a "line of duty" injury forced him into early separation. Yet Rivero turned his personal tragedy into a success story by utilizing his vast security experience while on the ground overseas to launch Regions Security Services; a prominent young security company servicing the Miami Dade and Broward communities. Boasting over 10 years experience in the security industry, Regions Security services many industries like aviation, real estate, healthcare, residential, government, hospitality, educational, retail and financial. Now to inspire and continue serving, Regions offers corporate scholarships and training to employees.
